

Say Hello to Our New Medical Leaders

Unity Psychiatric Care of Columbia is pleased to welcome Dr. Neil Bomar and Liz Vernon, APRN, to lead the clinical team at our specialty hospital for seniors. These highly experienced mental health specialists will manage day-to-day clinical care for patients suffering from mental illness and behavioral disturbances linked to dementia. Working together, these providers can help restore patients' peace of mind and quality of life.

MEDICAL DIRECTOR

Neil Bomar, MD

Dr. Bomar has been practicing psychiatry for more than 15 years, providing mental health services to a wide array of adults, including seniors and people with struggling with addiction. Prior to completing his psychiatric residency, he was a specialist in occupational and preventive medicine. A graduate of Vanderbilt University and the University of Tennessee's medical school, Dr. Bomar is married with two sons. He and his family enjoy being active outdoors.

PSYCHIATRIC NURSE PRACTITIONER

Liz Vernon, APRN

Ms. Vernon has been in nursing for over 12 years and is board certified in mental health care. She has a passion for collaborating with families and staff to tailor stabilizing treatment plans to address mental health and memory conditions. She is graduate of the University of Tennessee at Knoxville. In her personal time, she enjoys playing board games with her family, cooking for friends and watching Korean dramas on TV.

Unity Psychiatric Care of Columbia is a specialty hospital serving older adults who are experiencing an acute mental health crisis or psychotic episode.
